

Turks, At Point Of Bayonet, Seize Greeks To Rush "Exchange Of Population"

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 20.—(By the United Press) —At the point of the bayonet, routing their victims from bed, Turkish police have taken matters of exchange of populations with Greece into their own hands and marched some 3,000 Greeks to imprisonment in the hills for fear of the seven favors. The Greeks, who were hustled off without being permitted to bring along belongings, included many who were not to be exchanged, but their protests fell upon deaf ears. A child suffering from smallpox was dragged off to the fortress, old men and women were prodded along the road by armed convoys and in one instance a baker's boy, his hands and apron white with flour, was hurried off to prison. The Greek population of Constantinople is terror-stricken as a result of the action of the police. The latter claim the Greeks seized along to a category slated for exchange and that they have delayed too long after obtaining passports. Many of the prisoners had no passports, however. Strong protests have been made to the mixed inter-allied commission which has charge of the transfer of Greeks to Greece, in return for Turks to Turkey, but the commission has been unable to check the arrests.

Strikers, Charged With Contempt, Have Right Of Trial By Jury

Surrenders

Philip A. Hartman, who is held in jail at Harrisburg, Pa., charged with killing Francis L. Haley, state trooper, during a bank robbery at Abington, Pa. Police say he surrendered and confessed. Until then it was thought that the robbery and killing were done by Gerald Chapman, notorious mail robber and jail breaker.

DAINTY AND ATTRACTIVE DRESS FOR WIFE VITAL TO FAMILY HAPPINESS, RAILROAD WAGE DEMANDS CONTEND

CHICAGO, October 20.—(By the United Press)—Demand for wages high enough to enable them to live in three parts of silk stockings for their wives each year is made in a request for increased pay on file with the United States Railroad Labor Board here today.

"The Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station employees declare white collars are not so important for themselves, but that the wives should have the silk treatment."

The "silk stocking" wage demand is a supplementary request filed by President E. H. Fitzgerald, to the salary increase asked last week.

At the present rate of pay, the clerks contend the average wife can afford new silks only "once in a hundred years."

"An average wage of at least $2,000 a year is necessary to provide the bare essentials of a decent living for a family of five in America today," the wage boost request says.

"Men who cannot afford fine clothes build up a defensive attitude, making fun of duties," the request states. "But women do not develop such a protection against feeling inferior, when not well dressed."

The wages asked are equivalent to the peak war time rate of pay for clerks. It is approximately a ten per cent increase over the present pay.

As regards white collars the brief says:

More families are purchasing white collars and presenting a more respectable appearing husband to the world as the family income increases. It is perhaps a little matter but it is one of the factors today in self respect."

Equipment of the wife with dainty and attractive dresses is an important factor in the happiness and unity of the family, the wage demands contend.

"So that deprivations forced by low wages in the matter of the wife's clothes will probably be more keenly felt than in the case of a husband."

WASHINGTON, October 20.—(By the United Press)—The United States supreme court today ruled constitutional the section of the Clayton act which prescribes trial by jury for strikers charged with contempt of court.

It was held that railway strikers, under the Clayton act, are entitled by jury when brought into court on charges of violation of an injunction.

Since Michaelson, Dan Cullen and eight other striking employees of the Chicago, St. Paul and Omaha Railroad Company were convicted of contempt of court in the federal district court for the western district of Wisconsin during the 1922 shapen's strike. Trial by jury was denied them and they appealed to the supreme court.

Rules Against Ohio

WASHINGTON, October 20.—(By the United Press)—Supreme court today held that the Ohio License Tax on foreign corporations doing business in the state was unconstitutional.

Suit to test the validity of the statute was brought by the Airway Electric Corporation, incorporated in Delaware, which had established factories at Toledo, Ohio.

"The inevitable effect of the act is to tax interstate commerce," Justice Butler said, in reaching the opinion of the court.

The government was today in the supreme court in its effort to bring up for review a case against the Trenton Pottery Company and 46 other pottery companies charged with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The court granted an application for a writ of certiorari.

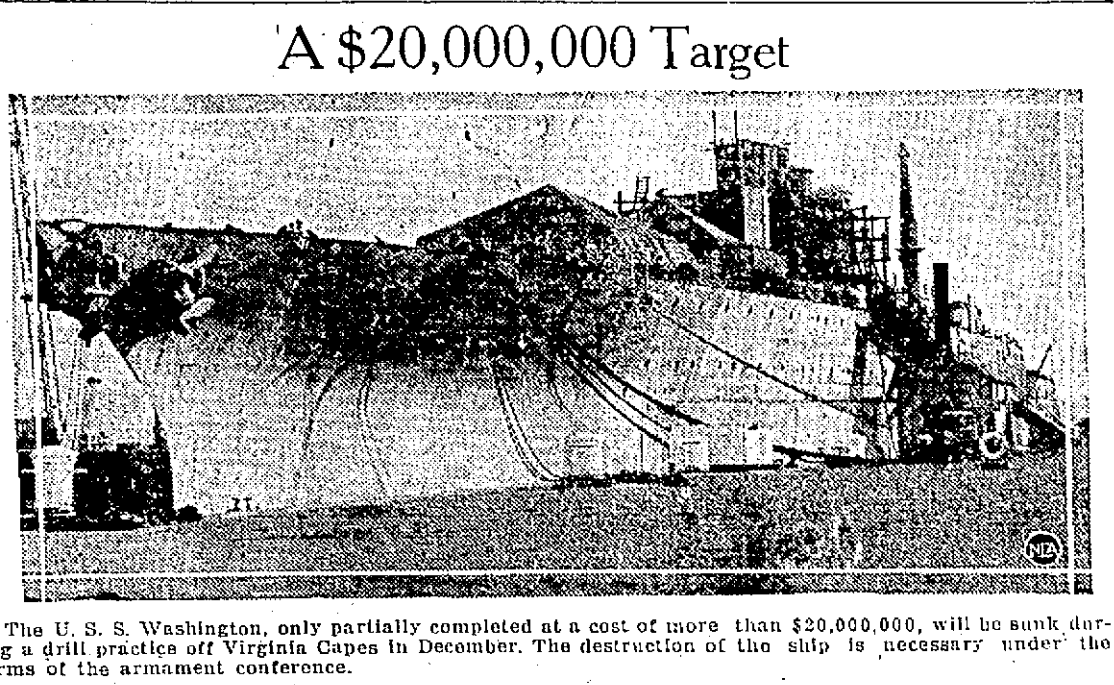

The supreme court today refused to grant an appeal which would call into question the validity of patents owned by The General Electric Company for tungsten incandescent electric light filaments.

The case was brought by the Chicago Safe Electric Corporation in New York, which decided in favor of the General Electric Company.

Reviewing at the request of the governments its decision in the Nicky Arnstein case, the supreme court today re-affirmed its previous judgments and reiterated that a bankrupt could not be compelled in court to answer questions, which tended to incriminate him.

Supreme court today denied the petition of the federal trade commission for review of its suit charging the National Biscuit Company with monopoly in interstate trade in that it sold its products to chain store systems much cheaper than to individual retail grocers.

Supreme court today announced it would recess from October 27 to Nov. 17.

U. S. To Resort To Deportations To End Chinese Tong War

Butler Charges Progressives Also Planned to Raise Huge Fund To Further La Follette's Candidacy

CHICAGO, October 20.—(By the Associated Press)—The cost of bringing in the United States increased nine-tenths of one per cent from June to September of this year, although for the year period beginning with September, 1923, the general level decreased by the same amount. These changes, set forth in a statement today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the department of labor, disclosed a net general increase of 70.6 per cent from December, 1917, to September, 1924.

Only three of the 32 cities considered in the survey showed decreases during the period of June to September of this year. They were Detroit, Minneapolis and Kansas City.

Leaders of the On Leong refused to meet those of the Hip Sing in a peace parley this week-end. As a result, Inspector Brown announced he will exert all his influence to bring deportation into play to end the strife.

Any Chinese found carrying weapons illegally, will be made liable to deportation as a "dangerous radical," he said, and it may possibly even result to wholesale deportations of Tong leaders.

Dr. Sze, Chinese minister at Washington, sailed for Europe to attend a conference at Geneva, expressing fears that the Tong war in the east was far from over. The peace parley signed at Washington affected only the district of Columbia he explained.

It developed today that the Tong war has a Canadian angle and an investigation has been begun at Ottawa. Reports are that it was a "sneak" in connection with the smuggling of Chinese slaves and the carrying of arms into the United States that led to the first killing in the present phase of the feud.

NEW YORK, October 20.—(By the United Press)—All efforts at mediation in the Tong war in the east have failed and the next step must be federal intervention and deportation of those responsible for continuation of the murderous feud, Inspector Alfred W. Brown of the Chinese Bureau of the Immigration Service, declared today.

Word of murder of a Chinese in Detroit, the latest victim of rivalry between the On Leong and Hip Sing, there caused fresh activity by police and detectives here to prevent an outbreak of vengeance.

Leaders of the On Leong refused to meet those of the Hip Sing in a peace parley this week-end. As a result, Inspector Brown announced he will exert all his influence to bring deportation into play to end the strife.

McAdoo Unable To Take Stump, Issues Statement To Democrats

WASHINGTON, October 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Although prevented by illness from carrying out plans to make an extensive speaking tour on behalf of the Democratic ticket, William G. McAdoo informed Senator William C. Capper, head of the Democratic "newspaper" bureau, in a letter published today, that through messages to friends, he "was doing his utmost to help the cause."

The letter, written at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, where he recently returned to an operation, asserted that the alternative to Davis is "no alternative and choice."

The election of John W. Davis and Charles W. Bryan, he added, offers the only chance to "purify the government and to accomplish the reforms demanded by the people."

It was his first extended statement since the campaign since the Democratic national convention.

"If the forces of reaction represented by the Coolidge administration succeed in November," he said, "it will be due to division in ranks of progressive and liberal forces in America. It is a pity that the progressives led by La Follette and Wheeler and the Democrats led by Davis and Bryan cannot present a united front against the common enemy."

Bitter Factional Fight In Indiana Makes Hoosier State Vote Uncertain; Coolidge Has Edge There at Present

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1924 by Times Publishing Co.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 20.—President Coolidge has the lead in Indiana but the complications over the state ticket are giving the Democrats hope that on election day the resentment of the voters on local issues will be so strong that many of them will take no chances of a scratched ballot and will vote the straight Democratic ticket.

Even the Republicans admit such a danger exists and just now the friction between the national Republican leadership and the state Republican managers campaigning for Coolidge, the clan-endorsed candidate for governor, is so manifest that it will take considerable ironing out before Indiana's political behavior can be finally assessed.

The Democrats have made a strong anti-Indian fight. They have gone further than ever before to get the negro vote and there are some signs that they will get it in large quantities. They have cornered others who are the victims of attack by the clan. One can not underestimate the bitterness of feeling which the clan controversy has provoked.

Ed Jackson was secretary of state when the Klan charter was issued. He is said to argue the charter was not in the capital on the day when the charter was given but he has made no public statement about it. The general impression which he has not refused is that he is identified with the Klan.

Local Fight May Beat National Ticket

The friends of President Coolidge, like Joseph Keating, Republican national committee chairman, have for some time been disturbed about the possible damage that might be done the national ticket through the local fight. Their tactics have been to keep hands off. The Republican state chairman, Clyde Webb, for instance, in a public statement criticized "certain Republicans" for failing to give the state ticket their support.

To Issue Power Broadcasting Permits Up To 5,000 Watts

WASHINGTON, October 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Conditions were announced today by the department of commerce under which licenses will be issued on a strictly experimental basis for the use in radio broadcasting of power up to 5,000 watts.

The conditions were drafted in line with the recommendation of the national radio conference that a general increase in power over 1,000 watts was desirable in all stations to overcome static and give better service to listeners.

Super-power stations having 25,000 to 50,000 watts are not considered in the plan and each station taking out an experimental license will be considered as a separate entity in view of varying local conditions.

Trolley Cars Crash; Two Perish, Sixty Are Injured

RUFFALO, October 20.—(By the Associated Press)—In the wreck of two international railway high speed trolley cars at Tonawanda yesterday two persons were killed and more than 60 injured, five probably fatally.

Homer P. Foreman, manager of a three-car trolley in that crashed into another section bearing Pennsylvania and New Jersey excursionists enroute from Niagara Falls to their homes, was unconscious at a hospital today. His testimony is believed essential to an explanation why his train rushed at more than 100 miles an hour along a track of the standing cars.

Miss Florence Derry and George McCullough, both of Philadelphia, were killed.

Cost of Living Shows Increase

WASHINGTON, October 20.—(By the Associated Press)—The cost of living in the United States increased nine-tenths of one per cent from June to September of this year, although for the year period beginning with September, 1923, the general level decreased by the same amount. These changes, set forth in a statement today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the department of labor, disclosed a net general increase of 70.6 per cent from December, 1917, to September, 1924.

British Surprised At Sweep Of Radicalism In United States

(BY PERCY M. SARR)

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, October 20.—(By the United Press)—Although the audience and bitterness of the domestic election has largely distracted British interest in the United States campaign, nevertheless there is sufficient similarity in the issues to intensify the interest as soon as the domestic political fate is known October 23.

Business interests are watching the possibility of tariff reduction although there is no reason to hope seriously Democrats or Independents would make an early revision, but would doubtless pass a tariff bill designed to benefit farming classes, would raise the price of wheat for British consumers. Thus there is little prospect of benefit seen on that score.

Growth of the Independent movement in the United States has surprised close followers of world politics, while casual readers express astonishment at the "sweep of radicalism in America" which is regarded as the world's most prosperous country.

Economists contend that unemployment and high taxation in Great Britain are justifying radical outbursts here but except for a general world wide political swing to the left, there is little apparent reason for radicalism in the United States at present, unless American are convinced the highest point in each country has been reached and desirous of avoiding reaction.

The Manchester Guardian today declares labor success in 1923 and 1924, have deeply impressed America, especially the continuous evidence that British labor and Bolshevism are far apart. Moreover, that the Labor party in office has quieted widespread fears concerning their doctrine, thereby stimulating American third party movements and weakening Coolidge's cause.

Rescued From Burning Auto

CLEVELAND, O., October 20.—(By the Associated Press)—The wreckage of an automobile overturned by a Big Four freight train of gasoline tank cars in Brook Park village today, burst into flames with two occupants of the automobile imprisoned in the debris.

Members of the train crew extricated the men from the wreckage while an engineer backed his mammoth freight away from the fire.

Cleveland police and a company of Cleveland firemen extinguished the blaze.

John Gronski and Walter Barkowski, the occupants of the car, were severely bruised and slightly burned.

Dirigible On Return Trip

SAN FRANCISCO, October 20.—(By the United Press)—The dirigible Shenandoah was fighting her way southward from Camp Lewis, Washington, to San Diego, California, today in the teeth of a rain and windstorm.

Head wings were encumbered as she proceeded southward.

After rounding Cape Mendocino, California, she struck a gale and rain.

Commander Zachary Lansdowne, of the Shenandoah, radioed naval headquarters here it would be impossible to reach San Francisco before late afternoon.

Woman Completes Realty Deals Totalling Five Million Dollars

NEW YORK, October 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Mrs. Fannie Menschel, former pianist who can neither read nor write, has completed realty deals in the last year involving $5,000,000, she says.

Shortly after arrival from Russia, 24 years ago, Mrs. Menschel married Sam Menschel, an invalid, who earned $4 a week. She cared for three of his children by a first marriage, and as the years went by six more were added to the family. Compelled to earn most of the money for their support, Mrs. Menschel became a janitress and finally persuaded her husband to allow her to collect the rents. Such was her success in dealing with the tenants that landlords of adjoining tenements on the east side commissioned her as their collector and fifteen years ago her clientele grew so large that she became a realty broker.

GUNMEN ROB GIRL AND HER ESCORT IN APARTMENT

NEW YORK, October 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Three armed men, young and well dressed, forced their way into the west side apartment of Miss Helen Haywood early today and robbed her of a platinum ring and took a watch from Alfred Hannon, a guest. The actions of the gun men were similar in many respects to those of the men who recently robbed Miss Edith Bobe, modiste, and an escort, of jewelry valued at $50,000.

The men, entering the apartment house shortly after Miss Haywood returned home, forced the elevator operator to take them to Miss Haywood's apartment. Forcing an entrance, there they held up Miss Haywood and three guests, but took only Miss Haywood's ring and Hannon's watch and left.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agent for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthmalic bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

Boy Scout News

All Boy Scouts of the county will look forward to November 1st with a great deal of interest. This is the date set for a picture show which is to take place at the Columbia theatre. The name of the picture which has been secured by the local Scout leaders is "The Call". It is a three reel picture and the setting is done by Boy Scouts. Through the kindness of Mr. Tynes of the Columbia there will be shown this picture, a comedy and Pathe News. The boys of the city on this occasion will be the guests of the Scouts. Each Scout is asked to turn in the names of two of his friends and they will be given a ticket which will admit them to the theatre. Only those who held tickets will be admitted. All Scouts on the morning of the party will gather at the Scout headquarters at nine-thirty accompanied by their two guests and from there they will go to the theatre. Tickets will be given out at that time.

Troops No. 1, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 18 held very interesting meetings this week and all color troops are getting started in their winter activities.

Troop No. 15 was entertained on Monday night at their meeting at Wilhelms Hall by Mr. Weeks, who recently moved to Portsmouth from Roanoke, Va. He is vitally interested in Scout work and will make a good man for the boys of the Portsmouth area. He gave the boys a short talk and then two very interesting stories.

Troop No. 12 was recently reorganized and have elected new officers. Fred Spencer is the new patrol leader. The patrols were assigned on last Friday night.

A very interesting fact has been brought to the mind of the leaders in scouting in the city and that is that the boys who hold the leading offices in the four classes in Portsmouth high school are active scouts. This not only holds good in our own city but the interesting fact is that all over the United States 85 per cent of the boys who hold class offices in the high schools are active scouts.

The new Troop No. 17, recently organized at Nahant is going along nicely and under the capable leadership of Floyd Martin as scoutmaster is sure to make rapid strides in the near future.

The A. B. C. safety squad is doing fine work at the different schools and words of praise are coming from all sides. The executive personality is looking after this squad and each day visits us many of the schools as possible and reports that the work is going along even more smoothly than last year. This squad holds meetings regularly each Thursday evening at four o'clock at the scout headquarters. A set of rules and regulations is being made up and each scout of the squad will be given a copy as will also each principle and supervisor of the schools.

Every scout of the Portsmouth council will be glad to learn that in the near future a theatre party will be given for them and two of their friends. This party will be at the Columbia theatre on some Saturday morning soon. The picture which will be shown is a special scout picture of three reels and scouts take the active part in the acting. The name of the picture is "The Call". Through the kindness of the Columbia management a comedy and Pathe News picture will also be shown. Each scout is asked to turn in either to the scout executive or his scoutmaster the names of two of his friends between the ages of 12 and 18 and each will be given a ticket to this party. Admission will be by ticket only and each scout and his two friends will be given a ticket free. The picture has not been looked as yet but dates in the near future have been requested. The date of the party will be announced later. Each scout may turn in his names at any time.

Another item of interest is that a Boy Scout band is to be organized at once. This is something that every scout should be interested in. All scouts of the council who play any kind of a band instrument and who are interested in joining this organization are asked to turn in their names to their scoutmaster or the scout executive as soon as possible. Also those who are interested in joining the band but who do not play any instrument but will be willing to learn. When you turn in your name you are asked to give the name of the instrument you play or would like to learn to play. These names must be in the hands of the executive not later than Thursday noon, October 23.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—I would like to know what you think about children going to picture shows? I have a son eight and a daughter ten who want to go to picture shows and I am puzzled to know what to do about it. Dolly, do you think these children are old enough to go to shows?

ANXIOUS MOTHER.
I think they are old enough to go to shows occasionally, but you should use your judgment in regard to the kind of shows you let them attend. There are many educational shows that children should see, and there are many others that they should not see.

Dear Dolly—I am in an awful fix and I would like to have some of your advice. Dolly, I am a young married woman and I have been married ever since I got married, and my husband does not do a thing, but help send all I make. He thinks I should give him all I can spare to go down town and blow in. I have argued with him until I am green in the face trying to make him get a job, and he says he can't find any. Now, do you believe anything like that? I guess he wants a "white-collar" job instead of honest labor. I would quit work, only I know if I did we would starve, and he put out of our apartment. Dolly, I am worried to death all the time and I can't go on like this much longer. Now just what would you advise me to do about it?

—WORRIED WIFE.
I would save up and take a few weeks' vacation and let him get along the best way he could. If it comes to starving or working I think he will get a job. He may not be taken in as a bank president, but he can get work even if it is only cleaning the streets or sweeping leaves. You should not support an able-bodied man. Of course, if he were sick, or unable to work, then it would be your duty to support him, but now it is his duty to support you, and you should see that he does it. Quit giving him spending money, and you might try taking your meals out and let him get his best way he can. He is leaning on you because you are capable of getting along on your own resources. Don't be afraid to speak the truth. Tell him frankly you do not like the way he is acting and he cannot continue to lean on you. If of the home, he has better find another place to live, where you will join him when he is able to support you.

—YOUNG BRIDE.
I would not do anything except clean the silver. You should know that all silver tarnishes, and the only way that it can be kept looking bright is to get a jar of silver polish and clean it whenever necessary.

Dear Dolly—No doubt you have heard that expression about "being as fat as a butter ball." Well, I am as fat as a now. Dolly, I would like for you to tell me how to reduce. I am so much heavier I won't be able to get through the door, and I am worried sick about it. Is anti-fat medicine dangerous?

—WORRIED READER.
It is dangerous to try to reduce unless you follow the advice of a physician, and I do not know of any hairless anti-fat remedies that I can recommend. Dieting is about the only way that superfluous flesh can be removed. Exercise, too, is a good thing. However, if you are naturally fat, I think it is useless to worry yourself to death trying to get thin.

Dear Dolly—Please help me! I want some yells for my school. Can you give me some? I'm in the grade schools and love my school and it's players I want to be able to root for.

Dolly, there's a boy at our school that's awfully nice and do you think it would be all right to walk home with him?

No! I'm not crazy about him, nor he about me, but we sure do like each other's appearance. Dolly, don't you think girls ought to put their minds down to study and not on boys? I do.

—GRADE SCHOOL PUPIL.
I can't figure out any yells, when I don't know what you want them for. I would suggest that you and your teacher get together, and I think you can figure out a suitable rooting slogan. You have the right idea about your school work, and going with the boys, and I hope you continue to think that way until you have finished high school.

Dear Dolly—I am 21 years of age and my husband is 35. Do you think he is too old for me? Dolly, please tell me how to make chow-chow. It he wasn't too old for you when you married him, he isn't too old for you now. Here's your Chow-Chow: One quart of onions, two quarts of small cucumbers, one large cauliflower, one quart of small green tomatoes. Put cucumbers in brine one day, scald onions and cauliflower in salt water. One green pepper, a little red pepper. To three quarts of vinegar add two cups of sugar, one cup of flour, 14 tablespoons of mustard, salt and cayenne. Boil the mixture and pour over pickles.

Miss Mary Gifford and Mr. A. C. Blackburn, popular young couple of Rome, Ohio, were quietly married Saturday morning in the parsonage of Trinity M. E. church by the pastor, Rev. Walter H. Smith. The attractive young bride was attended by a blue satin crepe gown with accessories to correspond. After a short wedding trip the young couple will take up their residence in this city, the groom having purchased and furnished a lovely home on Williams street for his charming bride. Mr. Blackburn is a son of J. O. Blackburn of Rome and is quite well known throughout this section.

All officers and Group Leaders of the Young People's Missionary Society of Bigelow M. E. Church are urged to attend a business meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the president, Mrs. Lloyd T. Henderson, 507 Seventh street.

Friends of Mrs. Ada Jones of 423 Front street will be interested in the announcement of her marriage to Mr. David Miller, of South Portsmouth. The ceremony took place in Jackson, Ohio, on October 11th. Mr. and Mrs. Miller will make their home in this city.

A pleasant gathering of relatives and friends enjoyed a reunion of the Jenkins family on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Selth of Dogwood Ridge. Mrs. Annie Lord of Los Angeles, California, being the guest. A sumptuous picnic dinner was served on the lawn at noon. The afternoon was spent in taking pictures, music and social chat.

Those present included: Mrs. Annie Lord, Los Angeles, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Jenkins, Nauvoo; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Jenkins, Webster Pike; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jenkins, Wheelersburg; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Selth and children, Dorothy and Howard; Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins and children, Kathleen, Madeline, Richard and William; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard and children, Pauline, Ruth of Olive Hill, Ky., and children, Fern and Edward Clayton; Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Duffell and children, Wesley, Harold and Paul; John, Margaret, Grace and Roscoe; Jenkins of Nauvoo; Mr. and Mrs. William Jenkins, Miss Garnet Jenkins of Wheelersburg; Mr. J. Wesley Brown of Ironton; Mrs. Anna Rockwell, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lang and son Louis, Miss Jean Cole, Mrs. Viola Newcome, Mr. Joe Harness and Miss Edith Wood.

The Opportunity Auxiliary of the Second Presbyterian church will meet this evening at the home of Miss Flora Hewitt, 1604 Sixth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griebel and son Eugene of 1411 Sixth street have returned from a visit with their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. Brammer, in Covington, Ky. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Brammer, who spent the week-end here, returning home this afternoon.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

THE APPLE-TREE FAIRY

"Oh, look!" cried Nancy. "There is someone beckoning to us from that apple-tree."

"Yes," said Daddy. Gander to the sky as they rode along through the sky on his magic dust-pan, the thirteenth floor was right. There isn't a doubt that the Maiden-All-Fairies and the Twinkles have gone to housekeeping in the House-That-Jack-Built.

"Oh, look!" cried Nancy. "There is someone beckoning to us from that apple tree. Let's stop and see who it is."

So Daddy Gander said, "Whoo!" to his dust-pan and it stopped in the topmost branch of the apple tree.

"Why, hello!" said Nick. "It's the apple-tree who runs the elevator up to the sky."

"I'm glad you haven't forgotten me," said the apple-tree fairy. "I thought I heard someone talking about the House-That-Jack-Built. Was it you?"

"It was me," said Daddy Gander. "Do you know anything about it?"

"Do I? Well, I should say so," remarked the apple-tree fairy. "I used to live in an apple tree on Pippin Hill where Jack and Jill and Mrs. John live. Indeed, I was there when Jack built his house. I know all about it. It's got the cutest porch and—"

"Oh, I mean do you know where it's gone?" asked Daddy Gander. "It's lost."

"An't wings and snail's horns," cried the little fairy in surprise. "You don't say so!"

"Oh, yes," said Nancy. "It's gone and we're hunting for it. The tin rooster on the barn and Higgledy Piggledy, the black hen, said that they thought the Maiden-All-Fairies and the Twinkles had gone to housekeeping in it."

"I don't believe it," said the apple-tree fairy. "They wouldn't do such a thing. Wait a minute! I've an idea. Was there a wind-storm thereabouts when the house disappeared?

"Not that I know of," said Daddy Gander. "But then it's pretty hard to tell sometimes. We never can be sure in Mother Goose Land whether it's a wind-storm or Poppleton Doo, the miller-man, snoring. Why?"

"I was just thinking," said the apple-tree fairy, that up on the seventh floor of the sky there is a place called 'The Department of Lost Things.' It's for the wind-storm things."

"Whatever are you talking about?" cried Nick. "What? Wind-storm things?"

"Oh, pigs, and baby-carts, and hogs, and chickens, and automobiles and houses and things like that, that blow away in tornadoes. A tornado is a wind-storm," said the apple-tree fairy. "They have to blow somewhere, don't they? So they blow up to the seventh floor of the sky and we fairies sort them out. It's quite a village."

"But how could Jack's house be blown up there when nothing else was," asked Nancy.

"Oh, easily," said the fairy. "A tornado is just a wind cloud that looks like a kite with a tail. The tail comes along and—whisk! It can blow you right off the map and leave the person you were talking to without so much as pushing an eyelash out of place."

"Well, then," said Daddy Gander, "we'll go there at once and look."

"Just leave your magic dust-pan here," said the apple-tree fairy. "I'll run you up in my elevator as quick as Jack Robinson could wink his eye."

If you could hire half your washing done for 3 1/3 cents

Where is the woman who wouldn't be overjoyed to get rid of half the work on wash-day for a sum as tiny as this? One-third of a package of La France dissolved with your soap, and two operations are cut from the washing. No rubbing—no bluing.

With La France, you just soak or boil the clothes, then rinse and wring, and the clothes are ready to dry. It blues as it cleans. And what a gloriously white and sweet-smelling wash!

Use it with any soap you like—bar, powder or flakes—in tubs or washing machine. All the sticky, greasy dirt that resists even the best of soap when used alone simply floats away when La France, too, is used. Buy La France from your grocer to-day. It is only 10 cents a package.

For ironing, use Satin. Add it to the hot starch, and your iron won't stick. Gives the clothes a lovelier gloss and imparts to them a delightful perfume. La France Manufacturing Company, Philadelphia.

La France blues as it cleans. Loosens every sticky, greasy particle of soil so it can be easily rinsed away. Use it with soap of any brand or kind.

Only 3 1/3 cents each wash-day for this wonderful product that does away with all the drudgery of washing. For boiler, tubs or washing machine.

SOCIAL NEWS

The Portsmouth Reading Club will meet this evening at the Tremper Cottage on the West Side.

Mrs. William H. Schwartz, of 712 Sixth street, has returned from Troy, Ohio, where she attended a meeting of the Midwest District Federation of Women's Clubs. While in Troy Mrs. Schwartz was the guest of Mrs. Herbert L. Johnson, a Mr. Holoke, Mass., college chum.

Ruth Katherine Sommer is the name given the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Sommer (Katherine Haffner) of Fifth street, who was christened Sunday afternoon in St. Mary's church by Rev. T. A. Goebel. The sponsors were the baby's grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sommer.

The Ladies of the First Christian church will serve a dinner tomorrow in the basement of the church, when the following menu will be served: Roast beef, gravy, browned potatoes, slaw, baked beans, pie, bread, butter, jelly and coffee, all for thirty-five cents.

The regular meeting of the Eastern Stars will be held tomorrow evening at their hall in the Masonic Temple. Initiation of candidates will take place at this time and all members are urged to be present.

With the weather still warm and days like summer-time, it is hard to realize that October has almost slipped away, that "Halloween" is just around the corner and that Thanksgiving Day but a couple of fortnights away.

With the round of social activities now commencing it is imperative that one has a handsome frock or two to wear on these occasions. I'm sure you'll find the very garment you need among The Fashion's pretentious selections which are augmented daily by new arrivals. I saw some beauties unpacked this morning that I wish I had space to describe for you. I can only say to you, "Be sure to see them."

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — THRILLS OF INDIA

Both of Jack's pets seemed to sense that they were going to be left behind. Flop scrambled up the elephant's trunk and hopped up on Jack's arm and hung on tight. Flip raced ahead of the elephant and looked back. The poor hunter, however, came down out of the tower and got them both.

With great strides the elephant soon carried Jack and the hunter out of sight of the tower. And Jack was suddenly startled when he heard a low howl. Instantly the elephant stopped short, and the hunter raised a gun to his shoulder. They were just a short distance from a tiger.

"You had better crouch down and keep out of the way," said the hunter. "When the tiger realizes that we see him, he will likely spring at the elephant." So Jack got down on his knees and peered over the side of the box. Then he shouted, "There's the tiger, in that clump of bushes." (Continued.)

The Affair at Flower Acres

©1924 by MCA Service Inc. CAROLYN WELLS

BEGIN HERE TODAY
The body of Douglas Raynor is found in the early evening on the floor of the sun room at Flower Acres, his Long Island home. Standing over the dead man, pistol in hand, is Malcolm Finley, former sweetheart of Raynor's wife, Nancy. Eva Turner, Raynor's nurse, stands by the door with her hand still on the light switch. In a moment, Nancy appears, white-faced and terrified. Outside Kent, Nancy's brother, comes in from the south side of the room, and then Ezra Goddard, friend of Finley, enters upon the scene. "I didn't do it," Finley protests. "I don't think I did," then Mrs. Raynor did it," accuses Miss Turner; "before I could get the light on I saw you both—Now Goddard goes toward the stricken man. "Perhaps Raynor isn't dead," he says.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.
"Yes, he's dead," Goddard said, after a brief examination. "I think the woman should go to their rooms—or, at least, away from here."

But none of the women would do this, and as Miss Mattie showed signs of faintness, Eva Turner hastened away.

Pimples

You will be startled how quickly and thoroughly you can stop skin eruptions and beautify your complexion with S.S.S.

PIMPLES are the first thing one notices in another person's face. It is too often cruel in its judgment. It judges from what it sees on the outside. Pimples are easy to get rid of. More red-cells! That is what you need when you see pimples starting at you in the mirror. Red-cells mean clear, pure, rich blood. They mean clear, rosy, lovable complexions. They mean nerve power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom from pimples, from blackhead pest, from boils, from eczema and skin eruptions; from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S.S.S. will aid Nature in building them for you! S.S.S. has been known since 1822 as one of the greatest blood-builders, blood-cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. Start taking S.S.S. today. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

CHAPTER IV
Detective Dobbins

If Ezra Goddard had followed the sea, he would have been the worst of sailors who is dulled able seaman. If he had chosen the ministry as a career, he would have been known as an eminent divine. Had he pitched on the legal profession, he would have been spoken of as a noted lawyer. Or had he been an author, he would most certainly have attained the rank of celebrated novelist.

Moreover, if he had bent his talents and energies to the science of shuffling, he would have risen rapidly to the height of Transcendent Detective, and would have become famous.

But detective he was not, for though possessed of the necessary perspicacity and responsibility, he had had no training or experience, and knew little or nothing of finger-print work or of third-degree practice.

So it was really owing more to his inherent generosity than to his deductive ability that he stepped forward and assumed control of the entire situation.

The efficiency in emergency was well paid, for within fifteen minutes of the discovery of Douglas Raynor's death, Goddard had sent word to the family physician, the county medical examiner and the local police. And within an hour they had all arrived.

Doctor Saxton came first. Though he was the family physician, he had rarely been called to Flower Acres, for there had been little illness in the household. When Douglas Raynor began to feel unwell, his doctor, he sought advice from a resident physician, Miss Turner was by no means the first of these, indeed, she was merely the present incumbent, and was already slated for dismissal by her patient.

But, being a present, and being a graduate nurse, Doctor Saxton immediately spoke to her professionally, and seemed to rely on her assistance.

She came to him trembling, and with an obvious aversion to touching or even looking at the dead body of her late patient.

"Shut through the heart," the doctor said, after a brief investigation. "Who did it?"

To this direct question, there was no answer. Miss Turner compressed her lips into a straight, unsmiling line, while the others present, who were huddled round the sides of the sun room,

CHAPTER IV
Detective Dobbins

If Ezra Goddard had followed the sea, he would have been the worst of sailors who is dulled able seaman. If he had chosen the ministry as a career, he would have been known as an eminent divine. Had he pitched on the legal profession, he would have been spoken of as a noted lawyer. Or had he been an author, he would most certainly have attained the rank of celebrated novelist.

Moreover, if he had bent his talents and energies to the science of shuffling, he would have risen rapidly to the height of Transcendent Detective, and would have become famous.

But detective he was not, for though possessed of the necessary perspicacity and responsibility, he had had no training or experience, and knew little or nothing of finger-print work or of third-degree practice.

So it was really owing more to his inherent generosity than to his deductive ability that he stepped forward and assumed control of the entire situation.

The efficiency in emergency was well paid, for within fifteen minutes of the discovery of Douglas Raynor's death, Goddard had sent word to the family physician, the county medical examiner and the local police. And within an hour they had all arrived.

Orville Kent said: "She can be of no use tonight, and when the policemen come it will drive her crazy." Miss Mattie's cold voice decried. "Of course she can't go to her room, Orville; she must be questioned with the rest of us."

Notwithstanding the usefulness of the occasion, it was quite clear that Miss Mattie looked forward to the questioning not without relish.

At last, to her satisfaction, the police arrived. The others, too, felt a certain sense of relief.

Michigan Attended "Grange" Meeting

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 20.—This is the record of Harold "Red" Grange, sensational 22 year old Illinois half-back, perhaps the outstanding gridiron star in America last season, in Saturday's Michigan-Illinois game:

Scored five touchdowns—four in less than 12 minutes of play. Broke away for successive runs of 90, 65, 58 and 45 yards for touchdowns. Scooped up the ball on the very first kick off and raced 90 yards dodging through Michigan's tacklers for a touchdown. Carried the ball in 21 plays and gained the astonishing distance of 402 yards. Threw most of Illinois forward passes and also held the ball for Britton on the points for after touchdown.

Grange was unanimously chosen for 1923 All American honors.

BRINGING UP FATHER

British

While Lloyd George is compared with the late Roosevelt.

While there is a strong personal liking for Davis here, owing to his popularity during his term as American ambassador at St. James, Coolidge is accorded more respect, first as president, second as a man who took office during a time of peace, and finally, owing to a sympathetic feeling that he deserves another chance to formulate his own policies.

LaFollette's policies are appreciated very highly, but at least there is much curiosity as to his fate, especially if MacDonald is overthrown. The coming election marks a serious setback of radicalism in the most promising country, hence observers are little hopeful of radicalism in "prosperous United States." It is even predicted that MacDonald's defeat will seriously affect LaFollette's chances.

Bitter

This time, it is the fact that the Republicans who in the past have enjoyed favor at the hands of the party and who probably will expect to do so again, are not taking an active part in the campaign.

"Some of them are doing nothing for the national ticket, others are strong for Coolidge but are perfectly quiet when it comes to the state and local tickets, thinking in some way that their failure to do anything for the state and local tickets will help the national ticket. How they reach this conclusion is more than I know. So while I feel certain of success on election day on all our tickets, I regret that this success unless conditions change will be attained without the aid of certain men who might have given assistance. An extensive speaking campaign will be started immediately, and every city, town and hamlet will be covered."

Keep Hands Off Klan Fight

It is generally supposed that the means the New York faction. There have been speakers in the state for the national ticket but they usually avoid anything more than a passing reference to the state ticket. The state managers now have reached a point in which they seriously believe the chances of Coolidge will be affected unless they get the wholehearted cooperation of the national Republican organization. Some of the latter however think it is safer to keep hands off so as to get both pro- and anti-klan support. For President Coolidge himself has thus far been kept apart from the klan controversy.

Virtually the same situation exists here as in Colorado where the sentiment for Coolidge is not in any way related to the klan controversy over the klan. The effect of the scratching of ballots especially on voting machines is already being discussed for the voter with a grievance will wish to make sure that he has voted correctly on that irrespective of anything else.

Were it not for the state controversy, President Coolidge would carry Indiana by 100,000. If he wins the state it will be by perhaps half that figure which may be called close since the days of woman suffrage and larger registrations.

The LaFollette strength in Indiana is not inconsiderable. Railroad labor and radicals and some farmers are coming over to the third party ticket. Opinion varies as to whether this vote is going in larger numbers from the Democratic than the Republican party, but in the cities, to be sure, the Democrats will contribute more to LaFollette than in the country districts. The controversy over the state ticket has driven some of the independent voters to the LaFollette standard and altogether, Indiana is much more difficult to analyze this year than it was four or eight years ago.

To summarize, the most that can be said of Indiana at this time is that if the election were held tomorrow, President Coolidge would carry it. The Democrats, stimulated by the recent visit of John W. Davis, are by no means inclined to concede Indiana. Mr. Davis put heart into the organization and made a good impression with his speeches. The Republicans thought enough of Indiana to send Secretary of State Hughes here and they are sparing no effort. They act as if they think they ought to win the state for Coolidge, but they are by no means secure.

The president has the advantage at present and barring unforeseen developments in the controversy over the state ticket, whereby the national ticket becomes involved in the klan fight, Indiana may be counted ultimately for Coolidge.

Children Are Ill if they won't play

Watch them carefully. You can forestall a serious ailment with a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

When you see a child moping, avoiding companions and toys and play, look at its tongue and you will usually find it coated—a reliable symptom of constipation.

Fortwith give a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It will operate in a few hours and the child will feel better again. If there is also feverishness, sneezing and sniffing, give another teaspoonful the following night, to make sure that all danger is past.

It is perfectly unnecessary to give young children strong physics and cathartics as they are apt to set up a bad habit they will later find difficult to throw off.

A mild vegetable laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin meets all their requirements, and as it is pleasant to take you will find no difficulty administering it.

Experienced mothers learned its value long ago, for it has been on the market over thirty years, and Mrs. Josie Clark, Rocky, Okla., and Mr. Charles Lewis, Blackwood, N. J., attribute the general good health of their families to the prompt use of Syrup Pepsin at the right moment. They have it constantly in the house, knowing they can rely on it over night constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, flatulence, headache, sour stomach, fevers, colds and other disorders accompanying or due to a constipated condition of the intestines and bowels.

Free Sample Bottle Coupon
There are people who very rightly prefer to try a medicine before they buy it. Let them clip this coupon, fill their name and address to it, and send it to the Syrup Pepsin Co., 518 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois, and a free sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will be sent them postpaid by mail. Do not inclose postage. It is free.

You can buy a bottle at any drug store at an average cost of less than a cent a dose.

The ingredients of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are very generally known, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and agreeable aromatics, and wholly free of opiates and narcotics. The formula, which is on every package, was written by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who practiced medicine for forty-seven years.

Get a bottle from your druggist today. Give it to any member of your family, young or old. If it does not come up to our promise your money will be refunded. It is our irrevocable guarantee.

today in a statement declaring that the national and local tickets in this state will be given "an 'old time plurality' two weeks from tomorrow."

Mr. Davis also reiterated his pronouncement that although he believed the LaFollette-Wheeler Independent ticket would "snatch six or eight states" from Republican columns in November, he saw no reason for the Democratic party to fear that result.

That the Republican ranks were frightened by the prospect of LaFollette success in the six or eight states, the candidate said, did not furnish sufficient reason for alarm in his party's councils.

Mr. Davis spent his time today between conferences at his hotel headquarters and two addresses he is to deliver here.

From Our Buying Power

Did you ever benefit by someone's good fortune? It isn't a usual occurrence. But every time you purchase at a J. C. Penney Company Store you get good merchandise at lowest possible prices. We buy at the markets' bottom prices on account of the tremendous requirements of our hundreds of busy Stores, and are satisfied with a small margin of profit.

You will have to see these values to appreciate them. As every item advertised in this ad is strictly first quality merchandise and the season's newest goods. As we never stock nor sell any seconds nor imperfect merchandise in our stores we are here to give 100 cents worth of goods for every dollar you expend with us.

A Different Method of Storekeeping

To a community which has no doubt found it increasingly difficult to distinguish between the broad claims of "EXTRA VALUES" and "RADICAL REDUCTIONS" exploited in a succession of SALE! SALE! SALE! it will be a relief to find in our advertising just simple, accurate descriptions and sketches of our high quality merchandise with equally simple statements of the prices which we regard as its fair current worth.

WE BUY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS' WORTH OF GOODS ANNUALLY for our 571 stores. Our buyers are thus posted thoroughly on merchandise and market conditions. They are in the greatest markets of this country daily—not just occasionally! Yet we are unable to tell why retail prices should change from day to day.

WE NEVER HOLD SALES! We do not believe that "sale" advertising as frequently practised, is either FAIR or ACCURATE. Hence, our policy of buying only quality merchandise and selling at prices always low—the same to everybody—every day!

Former Local Woman Is Hit By Automobile; Dies

Mrs. Mary Arnold Rice, wife of Harold Rice, former council member of this city, died Saturday in Cincinnati Hospital of a fractured skull sustained early last Thursday afternoon when run down by an automobile on Vine street hill. She had waited to cross the street until a street car passed going up hill, the street car concealing from view an automobile coming down hill. She had reached the middle of the street when struck by the machine.

Mrs. Rice, who resided in Mt. Auburn, was rushed to the hospital where she remained in an unconscious condition until death.

Mrs. Rice was formerly Mary Arnold daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Arnold of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Rice lived at 1220 Kinsley street before they moved to Cincinnati a little over a year ago. While a resident of Portsmouth Mr. Rice worked as a dog setter at the Selby shoe factory. In Cincinnati he is employed in the Holters shoe factory.

Mrs. Rice would have been 40 years of age November 12 and was born in Flemingsburg, Ky.

Surviving her are her husband Mr. Harold Rice, son of J. W. Rice of this city, two children, Arnold and Phyllis, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Arnold of Akron, two brothers, Delbert of Missouri and Edward of Akron, also four sisters, Mrs. Dallas Carter of Akron, Mrs. William Siler of Cincinnati, Mrs. Edward Freudenberger of Missouri and Mrs. Paul Herrick of Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice were united in marriage April 21, 1916 by Rev. George Taubman, pastor of First Christian church at that time. It was under his ministry that Mrs. Rice united with the church. She was an active worker in the Loyal Berean Active School Class, and the Woman's Missionary Society, Maccabees. Mrs. Rice also belonged to the Woan's Benefit Association of the

The body arrived here Sunday morning and funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Windsor parlors, Rev. Henry W. Schwan being in charge. Interment in Green lawn.

THIEF VISITS WINTER HOME

The first in boldness was displayed by a thief who entered the bedroom of the H. H. Winter home, 1717 Franklin boulevard, last night, carried Mr. Winter's trousers to the back porch and then descended with a gold watch and a small sum of money found in the trousers, in addition to money taken from a purse. This morning the watch was recovered, along with a velvet lined jewel box containing shirt studs, which were stolen from some other home.

The robbery at the Winter home was discovered this morning when the maid opened the kitchen door and found Mr. Winter's trousers on the rear porch. Mr. and Mrs. Winter were aroused and within a few minutes made known their loss. The purse which was rifled belonged to Mrs. Winter and was found on a dresser in the bedroom.

A bedroom window unlocked, provided entrance for the thief, who took a step-ladder from the back porch to climb to the window. The bedroom door was locked preventing the thief from going into other rooms. A bulldog locked in the hall made considerable noise about midnight and it is thought that the robbery occurred about this time. Special Officer Tom Albrecht was notified and in a search about the neighborhood found the gold watch in the H. O. Richardson yard next door to the Winter home. The thief probably lost the watch in leaping the fence. Later the jewel box with shirt studs was found under a tree in front of the Al Daehler house, just north of the Winter home.

The thief is thought to be the same one who operated successfully in Whitehurst last week when he entered three homes and went through each house, visiting to bedrooms and filling clothes and jewel boxes.

Is a Bridge Needed? Here's the Answer

Portsmouth and Fullerton persons skeptical about the amount of traffic a bridge over the Ohio here would take care of should have been at the upper ferry landing Sunday afternoon from 5 o'clock to about 8:30 p. m. The lower ferry was laid up for repairs late Sunday afternoon, which made it necessary for vehicle traffic to use the upper ferry.

At 5 o'clock there were 43 cars on the Fullerton grade waiting to be taken to the Ohio side. Four trips were made to ferry the 43 machines, while on return trips to Fullerton 14 cars were taken over from Portsmouth.

The ferry in an effort to take care of the rush business, made trips about every 15 minutes. Within this one hour 53 machines were carried to the ferry.

Active workers in the Portsmouth Fullerton bridge project this morning were pointing out to those who were less interested in the bridge that the big business is now present, with had roads on the other side. "With such a volume of traffic back and forth across the river now, what will it be with good roads? Is the question the bridge boosters are asking those skeptically inclined.

Non-Stop Economy Run Started

E. O. Robinson, local distributor of the Cleveland automobile entered this morning in the Cleveland Motor Car Company's national "one shot" non-stop economy run in which Cleveland dealers everywhere are participating in the hope of winning big prizes to be awarded for the best mileage per gallon and greatest number of miles on the entire run. The contest started at 8 o'clock this morning and will end at 9 a. m. Wednesday. The hood of the machine was sealed by Sheriff Harry Dunham and should the engine stop the car will be out of the race. John pander is driver of the machine. He will take his meals at the wheel and will refill the gasoline tank with the engine going. Cliff Connell and Don Thomas are the judges riding with Pander. The test is being made to demonstrate the Mileage Motor now a feature of the Cleveland Car and also the "one shot" system of lubrication.

Give Newspapers Rising Vole of Thanks

At the regular morning service yesterday at Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, the congregation gave a rising vote of thanks to the Portsmouth Daily Times and Morning Sun for their cooperation in promoting "Go to Church" Sunday which was observed here October 5. The vote expressed appreciation of the space afforded the churches and the cooperation given the ministerial committee in carrying out their plans.

Auto Leaves Road; Damaged

An automobile driven by a man who gave the name of William R. Fox and Cincinnati his home was damaged Sunday when it left the road near Friendship and turned over on its side. Occupants of the machine were unhurt. Mr. Fox, who was at the wheel says another machine crowded him off the road. As soon as the machine was pulled on the road Mr. Fox was able to continue his trip.

Buy's First Ticket To Westland

The first ticket to "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," which is to be the opening picture at the new Westland theatre, Second street, tonight, was bought by Miss Mayne Barry, stenographer at the Harrison-Walker brick plant, who took time from her lunch hour to go down to the new theatre and purchase the first ticket for the opening performance.

Bible Meetings Open Tonight At U. B.

Dr. E. J. Pace arrived this afternoon from Johnstown, Pa., to open a two weeks' series of Bible Study and evangelistic services at the First United Brethren church this evening at seven fifteen.

Dr. Pace will base his messages each evening this week on the book of Ephesians and urges all who attend to read and re-read this epistle as a preparation for the messages he will bring. This afternoon at two o'clock a public Bible reading service was conducted in which a large number participated.

Beginning Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, Dr. Pace will give a series of Bible studies on "Progressive Revelation" which is designed to cover the whole Bible in scope during the two weeks' period.

Need of Park Stressed at Club Meeting

The need of a park and recreation ground for the children of the south-eastern portion of the city, and the value of a park and boulevard system along the river front were stressed in an address delivered by U. H. Eccles, principal of the high school, before members of the Civitan Club, meeting at Mary Louise this noon.

Mr. Eccles spoke on athletics and recreation in the public schools and said that the children in the thickly populated district near the windmill are not having a fair chance at outdoor sports because there is no adequate space.

The project of laying out a park and boulevard system along the river front is too large for any one club to attempt, according to Mr. Eccles, and he expressed the hope that the Civitan Club of the city might combine their forces to make possible the fulfillment of a plan that would add to the beauty and health of the city.

Mr. Kennedy Is In the City

E. H. Kennedy, of Georgetown, Democratic candidate for election to Congress from the Sixth district, was in Portsmouth today consulting with party leaders here and meeting with campaign committees.

Hearing Continued

Oren Cassidy and Warren Rice, charged with larceny in connection with the alleged theft of a hat valued at $5, and a $10 bill from Miss Lucile Jones, plead not guilty when in Municipal court Monday and by consent Judge Sprague continued the hearing until Tuesday to give both sides time to bring their witnesses into court.

Face Liquor Charge

Zeb Rollins and Elmer Williams were named given by two men arrested Saturday night near Scioto Furnace by Charles Martin Slaughter and Dan Callahan of New Boston. The men are charged with possessing moonshine and intoxication. The officers claim the men had five gallons of 'moon' in quart and half gallon jars in a sack. There were released on bond Sunday with orders to appear for trial Tuesday night before Mayor Bierley.

PRESIDENT OF GERMANY DISSOLVES THE REICHSTAG

BERLIN, October 20.—(By the United Press)—President Ebert today issued a proclamation dissolving the German Reichstag.

The German cabinet crisis came to a head today, after it had seemed likely that the difficulties might be solved. The attitude of the nationalists, who refused to join the coalition unless they were given four posts, was the final straw.

The chancellor, anxious to avoid a general election if possible in order to proceed with fulfillment of the terms of the experts' plan, tried in every way to reconcile the conflicting views of the warring political parties and keep enough of them together to maintain a coalition government.

New Westland Theatre Opens Tonight

(By Sydney Strange) This morning we dropped in to inspect Portsmouth's newest theatre, "The Westland," located on Second street, between Court and Washington, and found the owner and manager, J. S. Davis, and a corps of assistants hard at work on the final details, which must be perfected before the opening tonight, when "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" will be shown.

The Westland has a most pleasing decorative scheme of cream and brown, restful to the eye and not distracting, and what made the biggest hit with us was the fact that the four hundred seats have spring cushions upholstered in soft leather.

We sat ourself down and bounced up and down a couple of times, just to make sure that we weren't mistaken about them.

Three fire exits, in addition to the two main exits, provide ample means of egress, and as the building is built entirely of brick and with cement floors, it is practically fire-proof. Two small rest rooms flank the main entrances, and a dressing room back of the screen will make it possible for entertainers to change into various sorts to be added to the program.

The manager's office and operator's booth occupy part of the second floor, and the remainder of the space has been divided into two large offices, which Mr. Davis plans to rent. Tonight, however, these two rooms will be turned into a banquet hall, when Mr. Davis will entertain the other theatre managers and operators of the city with a chicken dinner at 10 o'clock.

The projection machine at the Westland will be operated by J. L. Sargent. Music will be furnished by an orchestra made up of Selby factory employees. Mr. Davis plans to show films of high quality in the new theatre.

NOW TURN to the section of sports and read the classified orders. PROVIDENT PEOPLE profit by perusing classified ads.

MAGICIAN SHOWS HOW HE TRAPPED SPOOKS. Theoretically, the chances of "Margery," self-styled spiritualist of Boston, to win $5,000 award offered by "The Scientific American" for a genuine psychic are still in the balance, but Harry Houdini, one of the members of the periodicals' investigating committee, declares flatly that "Margery" is a fraud. He was present at the test scenes, were all fraudulent. Furthermore, he is ready to bet $5,000 that he will duplicate any "trick" of a spiritualistic nature performed by "Margery" or "thereby explain same to the satisfaction of a committee of newspaper men, magicians and clergy." Photo shows Houdini posed in cabinet illustrating methods which, he says, were used by "Margery," a Boston medium.

La Follette Pleased With Reception in Northwest

COLUMBUS, O., October 20.—(By the Associated Press)—La Follette, who is in the Northwest on a tour of inspection, today filed a statement in the supreme court of Ohio to compel the Ohio county board of elections to permit him to place his name on the ballot for election to the office of governor.

The Ohio county board has refused this request but officials of the conference for progressive political action, who brought the proceedings to day, asserted in their petition that their organization is a political party and entitled to such courtesy.

Maudie Wing, chairman of the Cuyahoga county committee of the conference, and E. S. Brer, La Follette campaign manager in the county, brought the suit, which will be argued tomorrow. Immediate hearing was granted because of the importance of the legal action in other localities where a like situation may occur.

Bryan Denies Charges of Radicalism Against Him

ST. LOUIS, MO., October 20.—(By the United Press)—Governor Charles W. Bryan, Democratic vice presidential candidate, after a Sunday here, denied today charges of "Radicalism" and outlining his views on wages and agriculture.

Bryan speaks at Waterloo, Sparta, and Minneapolis today, and at Benton, Pa., and Harrison, Tuesday, after which he swings into Ohio for a two day program of speeches.

J. E. Macklin, former mayor of Salem, Ill., who worked on Bryan's farm thirty-five years ago, accompanied the candidate today.

Part of Bryan's denial that he is radical consisted of the statement that he was elected governor by 50,000, while other Democrats running for state office at the same time were beaten by a margin of 100,000.

"I am a business man myself," he declared. "I have property and business enterprises at Lincoln. I own farm lands and I would be hurt the same as anybody else if their charges are true. That comes from the privileged classes. They know I am getting something in the way of profits to which he is not entitled naturally would be against the Democratic party and its candidates."

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. York of Fifth street, returned from a five months' stay at Madison, Conn., yesterday. They had with them while there their two sons, Albert York, who is attending the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, Va., and Miss Ruth York, a student at the Columbus School for Girls.

Mrs. R. E. Lewis returned yesterday from a week's visit with friends in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Cline and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brockman motored to Huntington, W. Va., Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cline.

The Lousia Lodge Order of Huru Garis will give a penny social Thursday evening, to which everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. J. P. Smith's Sunday School Class of Trinity church will meet Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Lutz, 1026 Fifth street. The assistant hostesses will be Mrs. J. J. Davidson, Mrs. R. Bennett, Mrs. H. C. Stewart, Mrs. Pauline Livingston, Mrs. W. E. Mann and Mrs. William E. Reider. This will be a very important meeting and all members are urged to attend.

The Minerva Kensington Club will meet with Mrs. J. H. Vallance, 1117 Fourth street, on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rathbun stopped here for a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Taylor and Mrs. H. S. Grimes of Second street today, enroute to their home in Columbus after a few days' visit with relatives in Gallipolis.

Mrs. Homer Thornton will entertain the members of the Merry Twelve Club at her home on Second street Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kirby of Robinson avenue motored to Huntington, W. Va., Sunday and spent the day with friends.

A surprise birthday dinner was given Sunday in honor of Mr. Dudley Templeton, at his home, 418 Third street. The table was prettily decorated with carnations, and covers were laid for several special friends of the honor guest.

Mrs. Thomas Willis recently entertained with a lovely children's party at her home on Tenth street, in honor of the sixth birthday anniversary of her charming daughter, Helen Louise Willis.

Baskets of dahlias made a lovely background for the merry group of children who enjoyed the delightful afternoon in playing games, contests and several piano selections by Betty Mae Conklin and Virginia Martin. At four o'clock the little folks were invited into the dining-room, where they were served with a dainty ice course. Clever place cards and favors marked the place for the guests, who numbered:

Joseph motored to Hamden Sunday to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Leverett Murdock and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilbur.

Court House

A petition in error was filed in Common Pleas court Monday in the case of John M. Miles, Plketon butcher, plaintiff in error, against State of Ohio, defendant in error. Miles was found to be guilty by a jury of $25 and costs by Judge Sprague in Municipal court for reckless driving and now he is prosecuting error proceedings from the judgment and finding of the court below. The charge grew out of a collision between the automobile of Miles and A. T. Shawver of Logan, W. Va., which occurred on Scioto Trail at the first underground crossing north of the city, Sept. 23.

Nothing New in Merriman Case

There were no new developments Monday in the case of Mrs. I. H. Merriman 32, medium, found guilty by a jury in Common Pleas court Saturday of the offense of obtaining money by false pretenses. She is still in jail pending a disposition of a motion for a new trial which her counsel, J. J. Campbell, Jr., indicated their intention of filing a long and involved petition for a writ of habeas corpus on the part of one of the jurors who sat in the case.

Accused of No-Support

Roland Conley 27 years old, was taken into custody by officers at New Concord and brought to the county jail to meet a complaint filed in Municipal court charging him with no-support.

Held for Delinquency

Edward Tucker, 16 years old, was the name of a youth taken into custody Saturday and brought to the county jail where he is held to answer to a delinquency charge in Juvenile court Tuesday.

Injunction Made Perpetual

At the conclusion of a hearing in Common Pleas court Monday, Judge Thomas entered an order making perpetual the injunction in the suit of T. A. Villars and Arnold Villars against William and Annie Howell. The action was brought by plaintiffs to prevent defendants from interfering with their possession of a farm owned by the Howells, situated near Haverhill, Green township, and occupied by plaintiffs as tenants under the terms of a lease.

The defendants complained that the tenants failed to keep up their part of the contract declaring they had no right to cultivate the land in a good farm-like manner and refused to take care of the livestock and other personal property in a proper way. The defendants sought damages and to dispossess the plaintiffs but the court held that the Howells had slept on their rights and could not be heard to complain at this late hour.

Attorneys Blair and Blair for plaintiffs and Attorneys McLaughlin and Staker for defendants.

Commissioners in Session

County Commissioners were in session at the Court House Monday and the board spent the day approving the schedule and signing vouchers along with other routine business.

Left Estate To Brother

The will of Buchanan Freeman, who died at his home in McDermott Friday, was filed for probate Monday. Under his will Mr. Freeman, who for many years was a prominent resident of Hadden, left his entire estate to his brother, Charles Freeman, formerly of this city, who now lives at McDermott.

Mr. Freeman's wife, Mrs. Ida Freeman, died last July.

Counter Charge Is Filed Against Officers After Harmon's Arrest

Local officers who were employed to keep people off the football field at Millbrook park yesterday, at the Smokehouse-Wellston game, had some trouble in carrying out their mission. Officer Geo was forced to arrest a man giving his name as W. Harmon, of New Boston on a charge of disorderly conduct. Harmon resisted arrest and claimed that the Portsmouth officers could not arrest him. Not wishing to use force on the prisoner, Geo summoned Officer Frazier, who came to his assistance. Harmon continued to fight back and tried several times to hit the officers. One of the men hit the prisoner with a black jack.

Harmon was then turned over to the New Boston police who took him to the New Boston police station and filed charges against him for being disorderly. He was later released as he claimed he was not 18 years old.

In retaliation Harmon today filed an affidavit against Geo and Frazier in Squire C. O. Davis's court, New Boston. They are charged with assault.

Firemen Rescue Horse From Hot Ashes

A horse owned by the Harrison-Walker Refractories Company, Campbell avenue, had a narrow escape from being roasted alive Sunday night about eight o'clock when it rolled down a bank into a pit of red hot ashes. Quick work by city firemen saved the horse.

Milton Riley, driver for the company, was hauling hot coals from the brickyard kilns to the end of Ninth street just east of Broadway. The ashes are being used for a fill. As Riley backed the horse to dump the cart he got too near the edge of the bank and the wagon slipped over the edge and pulled the horse down with it, the animal landing in the pit of hot coals. Riley escaped by jumping to one side as the wagon slipped over the bank.

Firemen responded to a call and after getting a line of hose around the animal pulled it to safety. The horse was badly burned about the neck.

Branch Tire Plant May Locate Here; Official Confers With C. of C.; Plan to Widen Road

That Portsmouth is being considered as the location for a branch unit of the Automatic Inner Tube & Rubber company of Jacksonville, Fla., was disclosed at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors, Monday, Van B. Taylor, of the above firm, was in the city today, going over the situation with Manager Frick of the C. of C., and expressed himself as favorably impressed with local conditions. It is planned to establish such a branch somewhere in this vicinity to care for Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia business.

It was also reported at the meeting that the Kinney Shoe company, retailers, New York City, who already have stores at Huntington and Lexington, are surveying this community with the idea of establishing a branch store.

The Good Roads committee of the C. of C. reported through Chairman W. H. Harsh that the members were working on the plan to have the road widened from New Boston to Sciotoville, to secure a new bridge over the Little Scioto. Some of the members expressed the opinion that the present bridge is not entirely safe, and feared there might be a terrible accident there like those that have happened recently in other sections of the country. The committee was instructed to keep in touch with the engineering departments of the city and of New Boston and to endeavor to secure some action on the contemplated improvements.

The report on the Industrial Housing company's activities showed that $92,000 of the $98,000 subscribed has been collected. All of the houses at New Boston are now under roof, and will be completed by December 1. Twenty-three of the 48 apartments have been rented, and the others are finding tenants as the work is completed.

The proposed new N. & W. depot was given consideration and its necessity was urged by all members present. Preparations for the Community Chest drive were reported as progressing and the campaign to raise the year's budget will take place soon.

Old at thirty

Some men are young at sixty; others are old at thirty. Which will you be?

It depends largely on how you eat.

"Old-age diseases have increased 100 per cent in thirty years"—so say health statistics. Here is a dire indictment of American extravagance in eating.

To sustain health the body must be nourished with plenty of simple food, free from poisonous wastes. That food is Bread.

Too rich foods, if persisted in, result in premature decay of tissue, break-down and old age. Finally the scrap-heap.

Prolong your youth, and joy in living. Stop at your grocer's for a loaf of TABLE QUEEN BREAD today

THE OPENING IN THE ARMOR

THE suicide of Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut, following heavy reverses in real estate operations, caused a profound sensation throughout the country.

It was a strong character, of a truth, his strength seemed to run to an implacable obstinacy. Politically he was a conservative, a rabid reactionary. He opposed violently anything that was Democratic and was bitterly hostile to any matter that so much as suggested progressiveness. His views were accepted as sincere and his personal honesty was not questioned.

But in the presence of personal misfortune all his firmness wasted away, his courage became miserable cowardice in the face of adversity.

People say that was strange.
It wasn't at all. His assurance was worship of prosperity. He thought a party and a law could guarantee him, and everybody else prosperity. When in bitterness of personal disappointment he saw his idol crumble, his mainstay severed and no longer could he face the world and dwell in gross self assurance.

CHARLIE AND CAL

BY a happy coincidence our own renowned congressman, the Honorable Charles C. Kearns, was in Washington, the very day Henry Ford announced the withdrawal of his bid for Muscle Shoals and according to his own veracious word, he hastened over to the White House, to congratulate Cautious Cal and advise him what to do about the white elephant now.

Incidentally, Uncle Henry has not announced whether he has flopped away from Cal as abruptly as he flopped over to him.

Anyway our own Charlie is the lucky one. He put his name to a report on Muscle Shoals, that some one else had written, and thereby gained great notoriety in which he has ever since delighted to bask. But that is Charlie all over. He gains a certain sort of standing by opposing or running away from what ever is to the benefit of his district.

He never backed improvement of the Ohio river and he was against the proposition to turn Muscle Shoals over to Ford for the manufacture of cheaper fertilizer, that would have been a great gain to the agricultural interests of this section.

Strange how he got away with it all, but he is coming to a reckoning, this year. Reports are that the lower counties, which are all entirely agricultural, will send up a majority against him to Scioto county. It then depends largely upon what Scioto county, which is both an agricultural and a river county, will do for him.

Our idea is that it will do a plenty.

SEE DECLINE IN MINISTRY

THE results of the survey made of the Protestant theological seminaries of the United States were so disappointing as to stir the church to the immediate consideration of corrective measures. In brief the survey disclosed that the number of theological students has remained about stationary but that the seminaries as a group and the theological students as a whole are not of their former high quality.

One of the complaints made against the seminaries is that many no longer require a college degree for admission and that in some not even a high school graduation is required. Fewer than half of the 9000 students of the Protestant ministry have a college degree. The survey specifically charges that many of the students are "mediocre men of comparatively little training" and that some of the seminaries themselves "can hardly qualify as education institutions."

Such conditions are especially surprising in this day. They would not have been important during that period in our earlier history when a pious mien and some knowledge of the scriptures were the only essential qualifications of a minister of the gospel. But today when the church is an educational power the first requisite is an educated ministry. "His is a time when the 'parson' must be the instructor of his congregation. The public schools and colleges have been commissioned for the moral education of humanity.

When men of inadequate training are represented in the great ecclesiastical bodies it is not surprising that from them sometimes come unintelligent and narrow-minded actions.

Time's Quickened Passing
The more we live, more brief appear
Our life's succeeding stages;
A day of childhood seems a year,
And years like passing ages.

But as the careworn cheek grows wan,
And sorrow's shafts fly thicker,
Ye stars, that measure life to man,
Why seem your courses quicker?

Heaven gives our years of fading strength
Indemnifying fleetness;
And those of youth, a seeming length,
Proportion'd to their sweetness.

—Thomas Campbell.

Time is a great emollient. For the first time since 1871 German bonds are being officially quoted on the Paris Bourse.

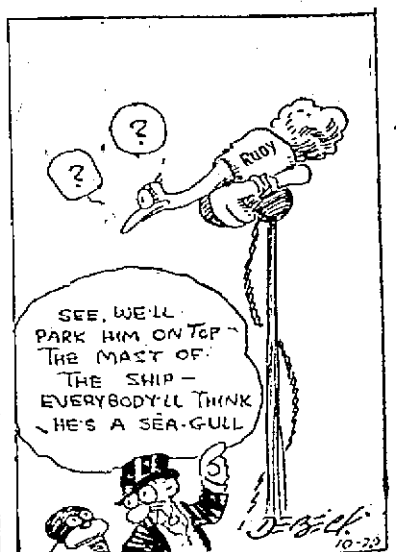

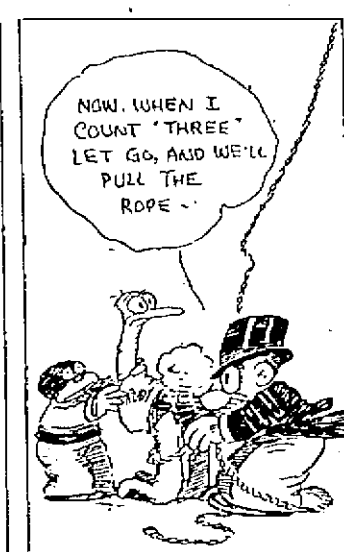

The song of the cash register will again be heard in Germany when that country resumes business with real money.

Many of the candidates who are practicing politics these days never qualified for admission into the profession.

Father Knew
"Now Jimmy," said his Sunday School teacher, "I want you to memorize today's motto: 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'"
"Yes'm, but I know it now," replied Jimmy. "Father says he has always used that as his motto in his business."

"Oh, how noble of him!" said the teacher. "And what is your father's business?"
"He's a prize-fighter, ma'am."

Obstinate

Native: "None. Pretty lively. So much scandal in the city papers."

"Clothing Sickness"
Jim: "Say, Bosco, I heard you were sick last week."

Bosco: "Yes, I was. I had the new disease called the 'clothing sickness.'"
Jim: "What on earth is that?"

Bosco: "Well, I had a coat on my tongue and my breath came in short pants."

Repairing Streets
The service department has a force of men at work repairing Gay street and Third street east of Chillicothe. A number of streets are to be improved in the city, according to Service Director Charles Wilson.

Stockingless Team
URBANA, ILL., Oct. 20.—For the first time in midwest football, and possibly in American gridiron history, the Illinois players Saturday played without stockings, exposing bare shins to the onslaught of the foe.

The players wore short socks reaching a few inches above the knee. Whether this style was adopted because of the hot weather, or for strategic reasons, was not officially made known. No injuries resulted.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Up and by train to Forest Hills to the piano recital of my cousin Josephine and she as fair and pretty as ever I saw her and played unthought with amazing skill.
Back to the city in Roy McCadden's gasoline wagon and to lunch at Earl Carroll's roof bungalow and wore a mandarin's coat which Marcelle brought from Paris. Home and fashioned a line or so, but with great weariness.

In the afternoon putting my books in order and had a long, contentful talk with my wife and she played some tunes and I sang and not wholly had either in especial: "When You and I Were Young Maggie."
To dinner at the Biltmore. Cascades and watched the sun coming through the gold lattices and I deem the prettiest spot in town, albeit the meal was spoiled by a surly waiter, each of us losing our temper. So to bed.

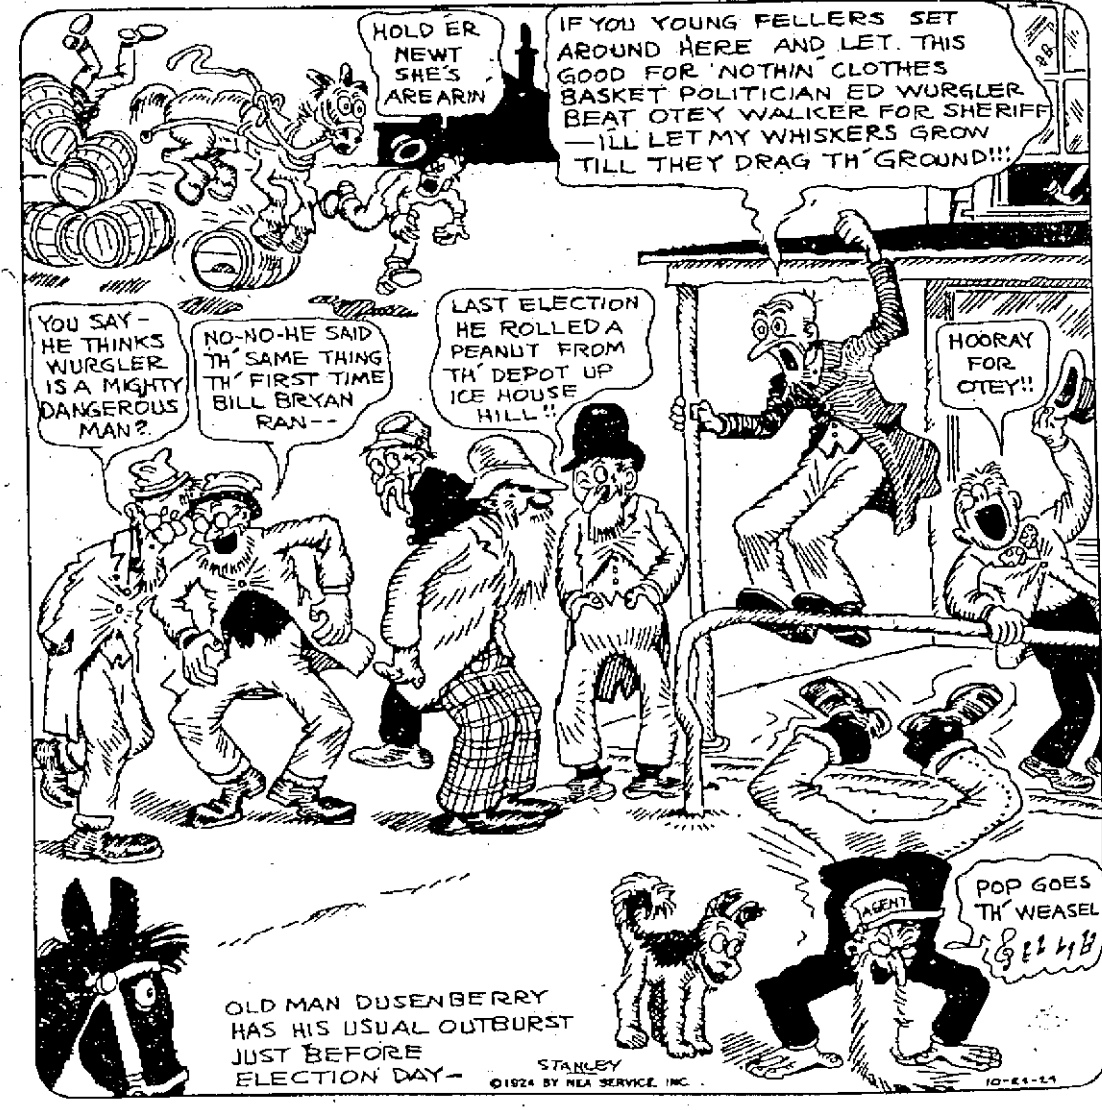

Down along the water front an unusual sight is the youthful "dummy" rider who rides horseback in front of the engines that switch the vast array of food freight cars arriving daily. These youngsters are Paul Reeves of the trucks, warning vehicular and pedestrian traffic of approaching trains. In the daytime they carry red flags and at night red lanterns. They ride fast and furious and many jockers started careers there.

Those of the "dummy" riders who do not become jockers stick to railroading. The lure of railroading is, believe, the mightiest of all callings. Once one hears the call no other occupation seems of consequence. It seems to me railroading too offers the biggest chance for advancement among obscure workers. Nearly all big railroad executives started at the bottom of the ladder.
